DAAD Kairo Akademie

Title of the Module:	How to write a successful proposal in Horizon Europe
Name of the trainer:	Ms. Elena Martins
Language of instruction	English
Date:	16 or 17 November 2026
Duration & Venue:	1 Day Workshop, 09:00 - 17:00 DAAD Regional Office Cairo
Target group:	Academics and researchers at universities and research centres in Egypt.
Content:	• Introduction to the EU Research Framework Programme Horizon Europe and its funding lines • A closer look at the logic and evaluation procedures of European research funding programmes • How to find partners / research consortia • Criteria for a successful research proposal, including content, writing style and structure. • Practical and strategic tips for preparing and submitting successful research proposals • Optional: Practical exercises in small groups and plenary sessions based on examples
Learning outcome:	The aim of the workshop is to equip participants with the skills to successfully participate in the EU Framework Programme Horizon Europe. They will know where to find relevant information, how to find partners for research consortia, how to prepare tailored and concise proposals and what concrete next steps to take to get started.
Information about the trainer:	Elena Martins has many years of professional experience advising researchers on national and, in particular, European research funding programmes, both through individual consultations and in lectures and workshops. She also serves as an evaluator for the European Commission. Currently, she is Coordinator of the EU Research Strategy at the University of Cologne. Prior to this, she spent almost six years as Deputy Director of the European Office of the Leibniz Association in Brussels, where she was responsible for European research policy and research funding and five years as Funding Advisor in the Research and Knowledge Transfer Office at TH Köln – University of Applied Sciences. She studied English, German and Romance Studies, with a focus on linguistics, at the University of Cologne. Her academic and professional career has also taken her to the United States, Portugal, Brazil and Argentina. She has worked for the Goethe-Institut and the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD).
